When you get to a point where you don't know what to do next, look for a great item. Tap it and you'll enter a hidden object game, where you need to find a whole range of things to unlock the trail. NEW: January 2021 Promo code for Pokémon GO: 10 Max Revives, 30 Ultra Balls and One Lucky Egg When you enter the hidden object game, it will be much tighter than most genres. This is because many items are hidden behind other items, such as drawers and briefcases, that you have to open. In the list of items, each red item is hidden in the section, while each white object is visible and can be found immediately. Some areas will have diversions, such as early in the game when you can play solitaire in the hotel lobby. You can play as many solitaire games as you like, but if you don't care about diversions, wait for the skip button to turn on, then tap it. You'll move on to the next part of the story when you do. There is no currency in this game, which tends to simplify things quite a bit. If you use advice, all you have to do to get another tip is to wait a little bit. Tips can be used both in your investigation areas and in the hidden object area. If you're exploring, they'll take you where you need to go, and if you're in a hidden object area, they'll either show you one of the objects or show you something you'll open to find the item. Hit the map to see all the areas you've been or that you can go. You'll see location, as well as all the different areas you can go to. Tap the building in different regions to see all the stories about the building as each has different rooms to explore. A good mystery enthusiast is always looking for clues. In Nordcurrent's brand new adventure game called Murder in the Alps, you'll need to be exceptional at spotting clues if you want to solve the ultimate mystery. This hidden object game for Android and iOS is unlike any other. The game was placed in a hotel in the 1930s where one of the guests suddenly disappeared. You'll play as Anna Myers, a reporter with a nose for mystery. You take it on yourself to solve the mystery of the missing guest, but strange things start happening. The story unfolds as you progress in the game, and the action becomes more complicated as you discover more information. There are ten suspects, and you're going to have to decide who did it. Do you have what it takes to find the culprit? It's a good thing you can rely on our guide to murder in the Alps to help bring a criminal to justice! 1. Look for something great The game allows you to explore different locations, but mostly you will follow the storytelling. If you get to a point where you're not sure what to do next, just look for something great. Tapping a great object will usually trigger a hidden object game. Next, you'll get a list of items you can find on the screen. Find them all to continue the story. 2. Not everything is in sight If you have played other hidden object games, you may expect all items to be only on screen, only with different orientations and sizes. That's not the case in this game. Since it simulates an investigation, you're going to have to dig a little. Some items in your list will be hidden within or behind other items. These items can be inside cabinets, hidden in sections or just stand behind another item. Be sure to look at anything that could possibly be a container or cover to find all the things you need. 3. Mini games are optional In addition to the chief mechanic of hidden objects, the game also gives you several mini games to play on the side. For example, you can play solitaire in the hotel lobby early in the game. You can play as much as you like, but it doesn't really contribute to solving any mystery. If you don't care about solitaire, feel free to skip it and just get on with the story. The skip button appears after a few seconds, so just tap it and continue with the main gameplay. 4. Use tips to progress Since the game does not have any form of currency, the use of tips is free of charge. After using the tips, you'll have to wait a while before you get another one, so don't assume the game will be easy just because hints are free. You can use tips in the research section and hidden objects of the game stage. Try to refrain from using advice until you actually need it because you don't need it spend too much time waiting for the following advice to become available. 5. Check the map Map will show you all the locations you can go to as well as those you have already searched. You will also see your current location. Tapping on a building in another area will show you all the floors of that building. You will be able to see all rooms that can be explored in this way. If you're stuck in a story, try checking your ticket to other places you can visit. The answer may be in another location. It's time to solve the murder mystery in the Alps! Just follow our tips and tricks above to find the culprit! Culprit!
